STUDIO SALE

Autumn 2020

Welcome to my studio sale for this autumn 2020.

It has been a complicated year with the virus, with art fairs getting cancelled, studio space being limited, but I have been trying to reconfigure how I work so that I can still offer my art to the world. Here, in this studio sale, I am presenting some pieces that have been laying “dormant” for a while, because they are difficult to show with new work I have been making for art fairs, because of them being in different formats, different subject matters. But I am very much fond of quite a lot of these pieces and I hope you will enjoy looking at them.

Some are framed already, some are unframed and you will be able to buy framed or unframed. If unframed, I have tried to give an indication of the framed price. Shipping costs will be on top of the sale price. If you are not in Bristol and the piece you are interested in is not already framed then I would recommend buying unframed to save on shipping costs. But do get in touch if you have any questions. These pieces are being offered at a discounted price from their usual price as part of this sale. This sale will run until the 10 October, after which I will arrange the framing/ shipping of sold pieces. Get in touch if you would like to make an offer on any of these pieces.

Enjoy!
